

REPID & PROSPER NETWORK MEETING

UIC – Paris, 2-3 April 2003

Key Words

Railways and rolling stock, Environmental requirements, Procurement processes, Indicators and Data formats

The Vision

The rail sector aims to continuously improve the rolling stock procurement for the benefit of society, the environment and the business. By improved environmental communication between stakeholders, the REPID network will contribute to improve the competitive advantage of the rail sector.

The Purpose

The first network meeting gathers the stakeholders to discuss procurement and environmental indicators based on the PROSPER and REPID projects. A forum empowered to recommend and approve business standards for environmental information in the rail sector (e.g. indicators and data formats) will be the result of this first meeting.

Who should attend this meeting?

- Procurement managers and experts
- Designers & product developers
- Regulators and infrastructure managers
- Refurbishment and maintenance responsible
- Rolling stock and environmental experts
- Decision makers
